Spread Your Garment Over Me is a collection of monologues and songs that explores how God has influenced different women throughout history. Using a variety of comic and dramatic pieces the play provides a unique perspective on some very intriguing women. Because the play is made up of individual monologues it can be tailored to meet your group's specific needs. By choosing one, five, or all of the characters, the play can run from five minutes to an hour and thirty minutes. The play has been incorporated into Sunday Church services, teen and women retreats and also entertainment for a couples' night out.
